

It is not the individual's responsibility to take the brunt of big business's desire to advertize, especially at the expense of having my home life distrupted by unsolicited phone calls. My telephone is MINE and since I pay the bill, I should have a say in who can call me and I don't want solicitors !!!